“No organization has a more profound influence on our region than North Central Missouri College. Each of us in business and industry should feel compelled to take advantage of this opportunity to further the college’s ability to enable its students and the businesses that employ them to succeed.”

Did you know?

Skills developed by current and former NCMC students increased earnings in the NCMC Services Region by $13 million directly, and by another $8 million indirectly in fiscal 2002.

As a result of past and present operations of NCMC, business sales have grown $59 million. Labor income has grown by $26 million.

By providing over 40 Degree/Certificate programs, we are better preparing the workforce of our region.

Since 2001, the number of online courses offered by NCMC increased an average of 109% annually for a total growth of 783%. Today, NCMC offers over 50 courses online. Over 20 faculty members teach online, and as of May, 2005, 1,008 students have enrolled in online courses.

As many as 73% of students initially stay in the region after they leave college and contribute to the local economy.

After leaving NCMC, the average student will spend 40 years in the workforce. The student who leaves with a two-year degree will earn $359,205 more than someone with a high school diploma or GED.

Supporting Economic Growth

“No organization has a more profound influence on our region than North Central Missouri College. As community stewards, we should feel compelled to take advantage of this opportunity and further the College's ability to enable its approximate 1500 students and the local businesses that employ them to succeed.” Peter Trombley, Trenton Coca-Cola

“We are standing on the verge of significant change in North Central Missouri, and with change comes opportunity. North Central Missouri College, now more than ever before, holds an important key to this community's ability to respond to the future.” Steve Perry, Landmark Manufacturing

“We have put our leadership and energy behind this effort because it focuses on the future of every citizen and business in Trenton and all of North Central Missouri. An investment in our college provides returns like no other.” Charles Hoffman, Hoffman & Reed

“As employers, we rely on a skilled workforce. North Central Missouri College listened to our needs and responded rapidly with quality programs and technologies to ensure our success. The College provides us with training and skilled workers, and we hire their graduates and support their programs.” Cathy Bailey, Modine Manufacturing

“Students benefit, employers benefit, and the entire community benefits from the success of NCMC. Its role is so vital it would be impossible to visualize our region's economic future without the maximized capacity of our college ensuring the success of our students.” Steve Busch, Hy-Vee Food Store

“I’ve read so much recently about the need for a better prepared workforce. Well this is what education is all about, getting kids ready for the workplace by helping them obtain a college degree.” No one cares more about North Central Missouri College than Lloyd Ketcham, Trenton Junior College Alum and Honorary Campaign Chair
