

Internet Explorer 8 - Test Timer Covering Submit Button

Students that have downloaded Internet Explorer 8 Release Candidate 1 have experienced problems taking timed tests in Blackboard. What is happening is the timer is larger than the intended size and is covering the submit button. With the submit button hidden students are unable to submit the test. To fix the timer problem, students should add our blackboard site to their compatibility view list. The steps below will walk students through the process of adding our blackboard site to their compatibility view list.

First, you will need to navigate to the blackboard login page (<http://learn.ncmissouri.edu>), click the tools button and select Compatibility View Setting.

Finally, add `ncmissouri.edu` to your compatibility view and click the close button.
